

Indiana University
Advance College Project -
Academic Specialist

The Advance College Project (ACP) seeks applications for an Academic Specialist position in the areas of English or Language-Education. ACP is a collaboration with high schools in Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan, providing IU courses to high school students through concurrent enrollment. The academic specialist serves as the academic support liaison to the English department faculty and in an administrative capacity for program support. Collaborating with the English department includes assisting with the coordination of curricula for ACP instructors of W131 (composition) and A202 (Literary Interpretation).
